

Pioneer Evangelist Role, Langley (West Midlands) Centre of Mission

There is an exciting opportunity for a pioneer evangelist in this industrial part of Sandwell on the west Birmingham border. It is made up principally of urban estates and has significant areas of deprivation.

You are excited by living and working amongst people deeply disconnected from church, by helping them to discover the joy and freedom of trusting in Jesus and of making a difference in their area. You will establish new Christian communities through building relationships, evangelistic projects, and teams of volunteers.

You will communicate the good news by word, action and lifestyle, working as a team with the lead evangelist. You will be part of a new Centre of Mission established by Church of England Birmingham and Church Army. One particular, but not exclusive, focus will be younger generations: parents, children, young people, and young adults.

The successful candidate will love Jesus, love people, be an innovator who brings about changes in people's lives and in communities, and enjoys gathering people and encouraging small teams. If you're passionate about unlocking God's potential in people, please apply.
